

Aboriginal Council of Queen's University

2013 Annual Report

March 2014

- x Vice-Principal (Research) Steven Liss attended Council to speak about a Aboriginal Scholars program to increase Aboriginal faculty. He suggested a broad-based approach from institutions across the country and a role for the ACQU in connecting with Councils at partner institutions to garner support to demonstrate to the federal government. He said he would return to Council as the initiative is developed.
