

EQUITY and PHILOSOPHY

The Queen's Department of Philosophy is committed to the promotion of equity in its teaching, research and administration.

Academic philosophy has a diversity problem. No other discipline of comparable size in the humanities and social sciences has as few only stand to benefit from the inclusion of a wide variety of perspectives.

If you have thoughts about equity issues in Philosophy, the Equity Committee and the Department Head would be