

School of Religion, Queen's University

Master's Essay Requirements

The Master's Essay must demonstrate appropriate competence in the application of theoretical and methodological approaches to a suitable research topic in the study of religion. The Essay It may be based on primary research, or it may be an interpretive essay based on secondary sources. In either case, good quality research and writing are expected. The Master's Essay will not be subject to an oral defence but will normally be read by one member of the department in addition to the essay supervisor.

Length:

0-60 pages.

Finding a Supervisor:

Supervisors are assigned by the Graduate Co-ordinator after consultation with the student and the potential Supervisor.

Process:

The student will meet with the Supervisor to determine an appropriate topic. The student will craft a proposal. The student will produce

Proposal:

approved and but to judge whether or not the passed. Second Readers are welcome to make comments on the essay for the student to read. Second Readers