

CUSTOMER SERVICE TO PERSONS WHO USE SUPPORT PERSONS GUIDELINES

Contact Officer

Accessibility Coordinator

Purpose

The Customer Service to Persons Who Use Support Persons Guidelines have been created to support the Queen's Accessibility Policy. These guidelines are intended to provide helpful information on the law and assist in providing a respectful, safe and welcoming environment for all persons with disabilities who are accompanied by their support persons.

Definitions

Ontario Regulation 191/11 of the Accessibility for Ontarians with Disabilities Act, 2005, section 80.45 subsection 3 states:

“support person” means, in relation to a person with a disability, another person who accompanies him or her in order to help with communication, mobility, personal care or medical needs or with access to goods, services or facilities.

Support persons may provide one or more types of assistance, for example:

Transportation

Guiding a person with a vision loss

the Queen's Student

Services (QSAS)

assistance

ns in the event of a seizure (e.g., protect from falls)

relay the communication message of someone with a speech disability

Guidelines

Queen's is committed to the inclusion and accommodation of persons with disabilities. The University permits persons with disabilities who require a support person, to bring that person with them while accessing goods, services, or facilities on Queen's University campus, including any Queen's related function open to the public or third parties.

Use of Support Persons

Ontario Regulation 191/11 of the Accessibility for Ontarians with Disabilities Act, 2005, section 80.47 subsection 4 states:

If a person with a disability is accompanied by a support person, the provider shall ensure that both persons are permitted to enter the premises together and that the person with a disability is not prevented from having access to the support person while on the premises.

Concerning the Health & Safety of the Person with a Disability

Any considerations on protecting health and safety must be based on specific evidence and not on assumptions.

Ontario Regulation 191/11 of the Accessibility for Ontarians with Disabilities Act, 2005, section 80.47 subsection 5 states:

The provider may require a person with a disability to be accompanied by a support person when on the premises, but only if, after consulting with the person with a disability and considering the available evidence, the provider determines that,

- (a) a support person is necessary to protect the health or safety of the person with a disability or the health or safety of others on the premises; and
- (b) there is no other reasonable way to protect the health or safety of the person with a disability and the health or safety of others on the premises.

Customer Service Best Practices

Charging Fees for Support Persons

According to the Accessible Customer Service Standard, you are required to provide advanced notice of admission costs for support persons, if any. Be mindful that persons with disabilities who use a support person often cannot attend events or participate in activities without their support person.

Consider waiving admission costs for support persons for Queen's Events. For example, your event notice could state that support persons will not be charged for admission or registration but a small or reduced fee will be charged for food or meals consumed.

Ontario Regulation 191/11 of the Accessibility for Ontarians with Disabilities Act, 2005, section 80.47 subsection 6 states:

If an amount is payable for a person's admission to the premises or in connection with a person's presence on the premises, the provider shall ensure that notice is given in advance about the amount, if any, payable in respect of the support person.

Ontario Regulation 191/11 of the Accessibility for Ontarians with Disabilities Act, 2005, section 80.47 subsection 7 states:

If, under subsection (5), the provider requires a person with a disability to be accompanied by a support person when on the premises, the provider shall waive payment of the amount, if any, payable in respect of the support person's admission to the premises or in connection with the support person's presence on the premises.

Confidentiality

Where confidentiality is important, because of the sensitivity of information discussed, staff may in appropriate circumstances, require the support person to sign a confidentiality agreement.
